

Select your door frame style.

Baron

The Baron is a sleek and modern design that is well suited to contemporary homes. This style of door features one vertical division through the mid-point of the door panels.

Caesar

The Caesar is a sharp, modern design well suited to all contemporary homes. Three even, vertical sections, with the number of horizontal sections designed to suit the height of your garage opening is the standard option.

Sultan

The Sultan design suits both classic and modern homes. As standard, this design features two vertical breaks on either side of the door, and the number of horizontal sections is designed to suit the height of your garage opening.

Sovereign

The classic lines of the Sovereign adds character to most homes. As standard, this door design has four vertical sections and the number of horizontal sections varies to suit the height of your garage opening. With a range of materials and colour options to choose from, the Sovereign design is highly customisable.

Regent

The Regent features long, sleek horizontal panels with no vertical breaks. Creating a simple, long-line effect, this design adds elegance and class to almost any style of home. The Regent suits simple panel combinations, making the design of the door the key feature.

The Royal is a modern design that suits a range of contemporary homes with the added feature of either a right-hand or left-hand vertical break.

Royal Right (viewed from outside)

The Royal can be customised to suit any combination of panel inserts while maintaining a stylish design.

Recommended door frame colours.

The external portion of your door frame is available in a wide range of powdercoat colours that have been selected specifically to compliment the style and finish of the range. Please refer to the 'Selections Powdercoat Colour Chart' located at the rear of this booklet for colour options.

Please note, Alumicomp door frames are not visible externally and do not require powdercoating. Mastic is used to seal and finish all Alumicomp joints to create a negative detail effect and is available in your choice of Light Grey or Black.

Clear Anodised finish also available. Inside of door frame in mill finish only (powdercoating optional extra). All colours supplied in Satin Finish unless otherwise stated.
